We have reviewed our response to reports of anti-social behaviour that affect our residents and the wider community.

WHAT IS ANTI-SOCIAL BEHAVIOUR?

South Essex Homes adopts the definition of anti-social behaviour as outlined in the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014:

For anti-social behaviour in a housing context; anti-social behaviour is considered to be conduct that is capable of causing nuisance and annoyance to a person in relation to that person’s occupation of a residential premises or the conduct is capable of causing housing related nuisance or annoyance to any person.

South Essex Homes will also consider any anti-social behaviour definitions as stated in a tenancy agreement with Southend Borough Council when taking action to manage anti-social behaviour.

Types of Anti-social behaviour

Anti-social behaviour can mean different things to different people and may or may not include criminal activity. Where the ASB includes criminal activity or statutory nuisance caused by a resident which impacts on the homes that we manage, then South Essex Homes will liaise with the Police and other relevant agencies such as Environmental Health.

The types of conduct that may amount to anti-social behaviour include (but are not limited to):

- Intimidation or harassment
- Aggressive and threatening language or behaviour
- Actual violence against people and property
- Hate crimes/Hate incidents
- Regular and persistent noise nuisance which is having a significant impact on the lives of neighbouring residents
- Normal conversation heard through walls or floors
- Noise travelling through ceilings or walls due to poor insulation or type of flooring
- People carrying out DIY in reasonable hours (we normally suggest not outside the hours of 8am to 10pm Monday to Friday and 9am to 10pm on Saturdays and Sundays)
- People mowing lawns during reasonable hours of the day (see previous point for suggested timescales)
- Normal vehicle noise
- Neighbours walking around their home and across floors
- Neighbours closing doors, cupboards or windows
- Parking issues, including parking across driveways
- Civil disputes such as boundary issues
- Certain incidents which may be considered a criminal offence and which should be reported to and dealt with by the police, such as burglary and theft

What South Essex Homes are not generally able to investigate

The types of conduct that we could not usually investigate as anti-social behaviour are (but not limited to):

- Children playing in the street, around their home or park and not causing damage or being abusive
- Children arguing
- People gathering and socialising in the street, unless causing damage, being abusive or threatening
- Riding bikes or skateboards around the estates that we manage
- Events in the home such as; flushing toilets, cooking smells, smoking in own home, vacuuming floors, washing machines, babies crying or playing
- Staring or looking at someone
- Pets straying across garden areas
- One off noise nuisance such as a one off party or BBQ
- Normal vehicle noise
- Neighbours walking around their home and across floors
- Neighbours closing doors, cupboards or windows
- Parking issues, including parking across driveways
- Civil disputes such as boundary issues
- Certain incidents which may be considered a criminal offence and which should be reported to and dealt with by the police, such as burglary and theft

While we will record every report of anti-social behaviour we are not able to investigate in isolation the examples of conduct as detailed above. South Essex Homes officers will always exercise their judgement in order to establish an appropriate response to a report of anti-social behaviour. This will include what has happened, the harm caused or risk of harm, the frequency of incidents, the evidence available and any known vulnerabilities of the people involved.
It is now a whole year since we refreshed the design of the magazine and we have had a lot of positive feedback about our new look and format. Please do continue to let us know what you think and suggest any ideas for articles. We want Insight to be useful, interesting and entertaining so we rely on your feedback to ensure we’re achieving that.

I for one can barely believe we’re in the final quarter of 2019! This is the last issue of the year so may I be one of the first to wish you and your loved ones a very enjoyable festive season and New Year!

We’ll be back in late January with the next issue of Insight.

Message from Mike

I am pleased to announce that following interviews held in late September, we are welcoming a new tenant Board Member onto the Board of Management at South Essex Homes. Chris Silvey is a resident from the Southchurch area and attended the Board from its October meeting. He joins Councillors Peter Wexham and Margaret Borton who joined the Board following local Council elections earlier in the year.

Our focus on fire safety in relation to your homes and estates continues to be a major part of our day-to-day work, as we have explained in previous issues of Insight. I am particularly pleased to confirm the appointment of a new role at South Essex Homes of Fire Safety Manager and warmly welcome Graham Hart to our team in that role. You can find out more about Graham in this magazine, as he is introduced to you in an article on page 4.

Those of you who may have had to report a repair within the past six months or so will have noticed the different uniforms and vehicles of our new maintenance partner, Morgan Sindall Property Services. It is still very early days in our new long term relationship with them, but we anticipate the development of some significant improvements to the way in which the repairs service is provided for you. One of the ways in which we are able to know if this key contract is operating effectively is via your feedback and we will be actively encouraging you to let us know what you think of this service in the future. If you are asked for your views, please do therefore take a moment to tell us as we look at every single response we receive.

Our conversations with the Council regarding a new partnership agreement for the coming years have been continuing and have been very constructive. As part of this process I know each of you received a letter from the Council setting out their intentions to continue the partnership with South Essex Homes and I hope to give you a more detailed update on the new agreement in the next edition of Insight. In the meantime I would like to thank everyone who responded so positively to the Council’s consultation letter.

In closing I’m pleased to see our Annual Report included with this issue of Insight and would encourage you to read through the report to gain a sense of all the things we have been doing over the past year – I hope you find it interesting.

Best wishes
Mike

14 Dear Julia...

Hello and welcome to the autumn issue of Insight!

It is now a whole year since we refreshed the design of the magazine and we have had a lot of positive feedback about our new look and format. Please do continue to let us know what you think and suggest any ideas for articles. We want Insight to be useful, interesting and entertaining so we rely on your feedback to ensure we’re achieving that.

GET IN TOUCH!
Getting to the Hart of the Issue

Growing up as he did with a dad who worked as a fireman, it felt like a natural progression for Graham to himself join the London Fire Brigade in 1979.

Graham went on to complete 32 years’ service working out of Fire Stations across the capital before leaving in 2011 as a Watch Manager.

“Being a firefighter is the best job in the world! At one point my dad and I were based at the same station and even went out on a call together once when a job came in while our Watches overlapped, I did have to tell him off about his driving which made my mum very amused and very proud.”

After leaving the Fire Brigade, Graham worked for a short period at the Oil Refinery at Coryton and for a private company carrying out specialist rescues (including water rescues, line and rope rescues and confined space rescues) before he made the decision to obtain health and safety qualifications through NEBOSH (National Examination Board in Occupational Safety and Health and Fire Safety & Risk Management).

With his newly gained qualifications, Graham started working for Southend Borough Council as their Fire Officer for commercial buildings; carrying out their annual Fire Risk Assessments whilst also providing Fire Marshal and ‘Fire Safety in the Home’ training to Council staff members and external bodies.

Earlier this year, South Essex Homes became one the first housing organisations in the UK to move to recruit a Fire Safety Manager – a move designed to ensure we are able to act proactively to keep residents as safe as possible – and Graham joined our team on 1st October 2019.

“I am delighted to take on the challenge of shaping the new role of Fire Safety Manager here at South Essex Homes”, said Graham, “A big priority for me is to find new ways to get residents working with us. I am looking to identify Fire Safety Champions to represent each block and through them we can arrange meetings with residents to open a dialogue about fire safety; to find out what residents’ concerns are and address them accordingly.

“I am very open to hearing sensible solutions that can lead to residents having a greater knowledge about fire safety in general, as well as a full understanding of how safety measures such as fire compartmentation works. Perhaps, for example, this may involve me providing basic fire prevention and response training for residents? But I have no preconceptions and I look forward to hearing new ideas from residents on how we can approach this important issue.

“I believe that by working alongside other staff members and local Councillors, as well as working in partnership with the Essex County Fire Service, we can gain the trust of residents by being open and honest with them. I am confident we will continue to see real progress in Fire Safety here in Southend.”

“Very soon residents will have a Twitter address where they can share their views and follow what South Essex Homes are doing to achieve Fire Safety in all of the Council’s housing stock. Also it will serve as a portal to inform us of any residents that have mobility issues who may require assistance in the unlikely event of an emergency.”

If you would like to contact Graham and ask any fire-related questions, or if you would like to put yourself forward as a Fire Safety Champion, please send an email to GrahamHart@seh.southend.gov.uk or call him via the Contact Centre on 0800 833160.
If you’re planning a bonfire

- Bonfires need a lot of organising and can be a hazard. Many displays are a great success without one. If, after careful consideration, you do decide to have a bonfire, make one person responsible for it, from early planning to final clearing up.
- Don’t site it too near your display or firework storage area.
- Never use flammable liquids like paraffin or petrol to get it going as this can result in uncontrolled spread of fire or explosion.
- Check immediately before lighting that there’s no animal or even a young child hidden inside.
- Never put fireworks on a bonfire, even if they’re dud.
- Don’t burn dangerous rubbish (e.g. aerosols, paint tins or foam-filled furniture).
- Remove any rubbish from your bonfire area in advance so there’s nothing that can be thrown onto the fire on the night.

When it’s all over

The work doesn’t finish when the last firework goes off.
- Spectators need to be cleared safely from the site.
- The bonfire needs to be put out completely.
- Spent firework cases must be gathered. Spot used fireworks with a torch and use tongs or some other suitable tool, and wear strong gloves.
- Don’t allow any children to collect firework cases.
- Burning the spent cases is potentially dangerous and should be done with great care only after all your spectators have gone.
- If any fireworks look as if they haven’t gone off after at least half an hour, douse them in a bucket of water and ask the Fire and Rescue Service for advice.

Follow the firework code

1. Plan your firework display to make it safe and enjoyable.
2. Keep fireworks in a closed box and use them one at a time.
3. Read and follow the instructions on each firework using a torch.
4. Light the firework at arm’s length with a taper then stand well back.
5. Keep naked flames away from fireworks.
6. Never return to a firework once it has been lit.
7. Do not put fireworks in your pockets and never throw them away.
8. Ensure all fireworks are directed away from spectators.
10. Make sure that the fire is out and that the surroundings are made safe before leaving.

If possible have a garden hose or a bucket of water available.

What is condensation?

Condensation is the most common kind of moisture and is caused by warm moist air condensing on cold surfaces such as glass and walls. It’s mainly a winter problem, as at this time of year walls are much colder than the air inside your property. Condensation is made worse by poor ventilation and not heating the property to the correct temperature. This article informs you how to reduce condensation, how to get rid of mould and stop it from growing back again. Every home is subject to condensation at some time and it is quite normal to find your bedroom windows with moisture on them after a cold night. You may notice condensation on other cold surfaces such as walls, pipes and your toilet.

What causes condensation?
The average household produces between 24-29 pints of moisture every day. Moisture is held in the air and must be allowed out of your home, otherwise condensation will form.

Are my damp problems caused by condensation?
Not all dampness is caused by condensation, sometimes dampness can be as a result of:
- Leaking pipes and radiators
- Leaking roofs
- Guttering or chimney flashings
- Penetrating damp from porous bricks
- Rising damp

How much moisture can be produced in your home?

How can I prevent condensation?

Ordinary activities can produce a lot of moisture quite quickly. Some steps you can take to reduce moisture production in your home:

- Do not dry clothes or towels on radiators, if you dry clothes inside, dry in a room with the window ajar and the door closed.
- Ensure that tumble dryers are properly vented to the outside through a proper wall vent.
- Cover pans when cooking and use extractor fans if fitted.
- Do not use bottled gas or paraffin heaters in your home; these produce a lot of water vapour when the fuel is burned.
- Wipe down surfaces where moisture settles, such as windows, pipes, cisterns etc.
- Keep the internal bathroom and kitchen doors shut and these rooms well ventilated during and after bathing and cooking.
- Reduce steam when running the bath by running cold water first and then topping up with warm.
Keeping your home ventilated

Increasing ventilation will help prevent moisture laden air from being trapped in your home and condensing on the windows, walls and ceilings. Actions that can be taken include:

- Each morning, ‘air’ the affected rooms by opening the windows for a little while and wiping down any wet windows and sills
- Use extractor fans/hoods in bathrooms and kitchens where they are fitted
- Leave bathroom and kitchen windows open slightly for 20 minutes once you have finished cooking, showering or bathing, with the door closed
- If your windows have trickle vents fitted, leave these open as this will provide a steady flow of fresh air and remember to shut your windows before you go out.

Every home, irrespective of its construction, contains within its fabric mould spores which are dormant and completely harmless. However, given the right conditions these spores will germinate resulting in extensive growths of black disfiguring mould. Mould needs very little nutrient and will grow on walls and ceilings irrespective of the decorative finish.

Where do you find mould?

It can be found on and adjacent to windows, in the corners and edges of rooms and behind and inside wardrobes and cupboards especially if they are against an external wall. Mould can even grow on clothes, handbags and shoes if they are hung up in wardrobes when still damp or wet, or stored so tightly to prevent air from circulating.

Do NOT use bleach to clean walls or ceilings. This may be hazardous.

Keeping your home warm

Condensation can be worse in a cold home. This is because cold air cannot hold as much moisture as warm air. Keeping your home warm can really help to reduce condensation. Condensation and mould often form in rooms that are unused or under heated. Turn the radiators and heaters down in these rooms to save energy, but don’t turn them off completely.

Important things to remember

- Move furniture away from walls to allow air to circulate around your rooms
- Do not block vents or extractor fans
- Clean condensation and mould away when you see it forming
- Avoid blocking chimney openings
- Leave cupboard and wardrobe doors open periodically so that air can circulate

The best way to heat your home is through steady background heating. This is because warmer air can hold more moisture and as the temperature of the walls increases the possibility of condensation forming on them is reduced.

Steps against mould:

Treat any mould you may already have in your home. If you then deal with the basic problem of condensation, mould should not reappear.

- To kill and remove mould, wipe down walls and window frames with a fungicidal wash which carries a Health and Safety Executive approval number. Follow the manufacturer’s instructions precisely.
- Dry-clean mildewed clothes and shampoo carpets. Disturbing mould by brushing or vacuum cleaning can increase the risk of respiratory problems.
- After treatment, redecorate using a good quality fungicidal paint, sometimes known as damp seal paint, to help prevent mould recurring. Please note that this paint is not effective if overlaid with ordinary paints or wallpaper. The only lasting way of avoiding severe mould is to eliminate dampness.

Once you have cleaned all existing mould and started to follow the guidelines to reduce condensation, please allow a period of at least one month for your property to dry out completely.

If after that time, the problem of damp and mould is returning, please contact us on 0800 833160 and we will investigate the matter further.
Veolia collect around 31,000 tonnes of recycling and 42,000 tonnes of rubbish from homes in Southend every year. Every week, on your collection day, two separate crews will come to your home. One collects your black sacks and blue food waste bins. The other collects your pink sacks and blue paper and cardboard recycling boxes. The back of the lorry is divided into two compartments, so that the two materials collected at the same time remain separated.

There are around 60,000 houses (not including blocks of flats) across the borough – all of which are visited over just four days, every week of the year.

Once the lorry is full, it takes the material to the Waste Transfer Station off Eastern Avenue. Here, it is tipped into separate containers so that it can be collected and taken elsewhere for recycling, composting or disposal.

When should you put your waste out?

Please present your box at the edge of your property by 7am on your scheduled collection day. Please note that recycling and waste should not be presented earlier than the evening before collection, and should not be placed on the public footpath, grass verge or road or you may be liable to a Fixed Penalty Notice.

Over this double page you will find a helpful guide to separating your waste, so you can help the environment by maximising recycling opportunities.

Welcome back to Leasehold Matters; the page in Insight devoted to Leaseholder issues.

On behalf of South Essex Homes I would like to thank all the Leaseholders and staff who attended July’s informative drop-in event. A big thank you also goes to Stephanie who joined the Focus Group in 2012 and has raised numerous issues that have been incorporated into our policy and procedures, benefitting other residents in the borough. Stephanie has recently sold her flat and is moving to be closer to her family. On behalf of all the Focus Group members we wish you the very best for the future. We hope you find all the articles below useful.

Dealing with Blocked Drains

Blocked drains can cause numerous problems as well as inconvenience to all residents affected.

When clogged-up drains prevent water from flowing properly, the pressure inside the drain can grow to dangerous levels and lead to a rupture or leak.

Even if this problem is avoided, a blocked drain will still reduce its life expectancy and may end up requiring emergency plumbing repairs in the future.

A few simple steps could significantly reduce the likelihood of your kitchen or bathroom drains becoming clogged. You don’t have to be hyper-vigilant about drain care, but if you bear the following guidance in mind, you should be able to keep the water running freely down your plughole for decades and prevent drains from being blocked.

How to Prevent Blocked Drains

• Put a plug screen over your plughole to prevent debris from going down the drain, and clean this regularly. A plug screen is useful for both bathroom and kitchen sinks.
• If you do not have a plug screen, remove hair and other substances from the drain every time you take a bath, shower or do the washing up.
• Do not pour grease or oil down the drain. A drain can handle clean water, milk and other liquids without any hassle, but oil and grease can solidify and set within the pipes, creating a hard blockage that can be very difficult to get rid of.
• Do not flush anything down the toilet other than human waste and toilet paper. It might be tempting to dispose of baby wipes in the toilet, but these wipes do not break down and degrade in the same way toilet paper does, and can easily block your toilet. Occasionally, plumbers are called to properties after a young child flushes one of their toys down the toilet – take steps to prevent this from happening if you think this is a risk in your house.
• Use drain unblocker regularly to get rid of any small blockages.
• If water is still running down the drains but is doing so slowly, fill up the sink and put a plunger over the drain. Use the plunger gently – if you plunge too vigorously, the pressure you create could break the seals of your pipes and lead to a leak.

Communal Drains

If there any problems with the communal drains, please let our Contact Centre know by calling 0800 833 160.

December Drop in events

A member of the team will be available on both Tuesday 10th and Wednesday 11th December 2019 between 5.30pm-7pm, to meet people face to face and discuss any issues they may have. Both drop in events will take place in Committee Room 7 at Civic Centre, Victoria Avenue, Southend-on-Sea, SS2 6FY.
LIVE YOUR HEALTHIEST LIFE!

Do you want a healthier lifestyle but not sure where to start? If you are registered to a GP in the Southend borough, you can access a range of FREE one-to-one healthy lifestyle support services via ‘Everyone Health’.

The Everyone Health [EH] service is free to people aged 16 and older who wish to make a healthy lifestyle behaviour change. Health Trainers will work with patients to identify what lifestyle goals they would like to achieve, and to help them make and maintain behavioural changes over time to increase their health and well-being.

Health Trainers can support patients with health related behaviour change, including healthy eating, stopping smoking, reducing stress, cutting down on alcohol, increasing physical activity and improving emotional and mental wellbeing. Patients get regular meetings with a Health Trainer over 12 months (usually 6-8 sessions over this period).

EH also provides Tier 2 (T2) Adult Weight Management [AWM] 12 week programmes, underpinned by behaviour change techniques to help adults adopt healthy eating habits and become more physically active to reduce their BMI. The service is provided by their team and also by Weightwatchers, Slimming World and Trim n Train, depending on the wants and needs of each patient.

All of their weight management programmes are free of charge for people who are overweight or obese from the age of 16 with no upper age limit. They provide extra ongoing support for up to 12 months, no matter which service is used, which includes support from a Health Trainer. Their EH groups run once a week for 12 weeks - each session lasts for 90 minutes and has 2 parts. The first part focuses on healthy eating and is run by their Nutritionist and the second part is physical activity run by their Physical Activity Specialist - they are fun and friendly and allow participants to weigh in each week and track their progress.

Finally they will process and manage referrals for exercise on referral programme provided by Fusion. Local residents can self-refer (or find out more information) by calling 0333 0050 095 or emailing clinical.contactcentre@nhs.net

Dear Julia

Here at Insight we love hearing from our residents and Julia, our Editor, is always happy to research answers to any queries you may have. If you have a comment you’d like to make, or a question you’d like an answer to, please drop us a line using any of the contact methods found on page 3. If your letter is printed we will send you a £10 voucher to say thanks for getting in touch.

Please specify if you would like us to print your name and the area you live in (we will never print full addresses though) otherwise all letters will be printed anonymously.

WHAT IS A SENIOR CITIZEN?

We were delighted to hear from Betty Foker who lives in one of our sheltered schemes, who was keen to share a poem with other Insight readers! Thank you Betty, your £10 voucher is winging its way to you care of your Sheltered Housing Officer.

Adapted from an original poem by Nora Cronin

“A Senior Citizen is one who was here before; the pill, television, frozen foods, contact lenses, credit cards..... and before man walked on the moon.
For us, “Time Sharing” meant togetherness, not holiday homes, and a “chip” meant a piece of wood.
“Hardware” meant nuts and bolts, and “Software” wasn’t even a word.
We got married first, then lived together, and thought cleavage was something butchers did.
A “stud” was something that fastened a collar to a shirt, and “going all the way” meant staying on a double decker to the bus depot.
A “Big Mac” was an oversized raincoat and “crumpet” we had for tea.
In our day; “grass” was mown, “pot” was something you cooked in, “coke” was kept in the coal house and a “joint” was cooked on Sundays!
We are today’s SENIOR CITIZENS.
A hardy bunch when you think how the world has changed!

MAGNIFICENT MURAL

Dear Julia

Residents have been delighted by the wonderful murals painted throughout Trafford House by Project 49.

Please see below just a few of the comments from the residents who are really keen to thank everyone involved with Project 49 for their hard work.

Best wishes
Sarah Gallagher
Sheltered Housing Officer

“It brightens the lobby up and I like the bright colours.”

“The group were lovely and we are very grateful for their hard work.”

A smart decision
